Part-time Community Arts Worker (music) at Chapel FM

Heads Together aims to use the arts to inspire a creative vision in individuals and communities. The Company has been delivering community arts across Yorkshire and beyond for over twenty five years – you can find out more information at www.headstogether.org

Our East Leeds FM community radio project started in 2003. It has been remarkably successful, encompassing a broad range of creative arts work including live music, spoken word and community journalism. In October 2014 we launched Chapel FM—the first-ever dedicated arts venue in East Leeds. We were able to save an old chapel in Seacroft and create something quite remarkable—a beautiful new arts venue which combines state-of-the-art studios with a beautiful radio theatre complete with raked pews, restored pipe organ and specially commissioned stained glass windows.

In the first 3 years of operations, over 38,000 people visited Chapel FM; over half of them to participate in one of our training opportunities<sup>1</sup>.

We are now looking to appoint a part-time Community Arts Worker to join our team with specific responsibility for training people in all aspects of music-making; playing instruments, singing, songwriting, composition and developing technical skills.

First and foremost you will be joining an established community arts company and you must have a passion for working with people and helping them to create music in formal and informal learning situations. At the same time we are looking for someone who has an understanding of the technical equipment connected with broadcasting, recording and making music, and a willingness to share that understanding with others.

This post is offered on a salary scale between £19,000 and £25,300 on a 3 day a week basis (0.6 pro rata) with starting salary depending on previous experience.

If you are interested in applying for the post, please complete the application form on Pages 6-9 of this document and email it, together with a full cv, to arrive by 10am on Monday 22nd October 2018. We will be arranging interviews for short-listed candidates on Tuesday 30th October.

CREATIVE PRACTICE

- must be confident in their own creative skills and be prepared to take creative risks
  - must strive to be innovative; combining knowledge, skills and experience to suggest new ideas and approaches
  - must show a commitment to reflective practices; analysing and evaluating to ensure that lessons are learned and applied both during and after project delivery

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

- the basis of all their work should be a desire to involve others in their work; whatever their background, experience or understanding. They will always be prepared to support diversity.
  - must thrive in a collaborative environment, prepared to work alongside other staff as well as participants in the planning, delivery and evaluation of arts workshops and projects— to share ownership of the work
  - understands that they will be acting both as a teacher but also as a role model at all times

PERSONAL ATTRIBUTES

- there must be consistency in all aspects of their work and relationships with others and pay attention to the detail of any project
  - they should show tenacity at all times; in their creative, participatory, and professional work and relationships

THINKING

  - will be aware of the need to make judgements and decisions independently; whilst at the same time understanding their own professional responsibility and be able to judge when and how to refer decisions to others in the team

<sup>2</sup> This has been prepared with reference to the work done by the Consortium for Participatory Arts Learning in the North West

PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS

- We see Chapel FM as both a beacon of community arts work within East Leeds as well as a unique destination arts venue. We are looking for someone who can make sense of these dual roles in both a creative and technical sense. A knowledge of the local area will be an advantage to potential applicants
- The job will include evening, weekend work and work that will specifically take place during school holidays to encourage involvement of school-age volunteers
- We are looking for someone who has a good understanding, knowledge and experience of creating music. We are happy to consider transferable skills from other creative and educational backgrounds but we would expect you to be able to demonstrate a real passion for music, as well as an excitement and interest in the potential of collaborating with the other art-forms which make up the whole offer at Chapel FM Arts Centre
- As a community arts worker, you must also be able to show experience and commitment to working with others—people of all ages and all backgrounds and abilities.
- The post holder will need a certain amount of technical skills and knowledge. We don't expect you to start the job proficient in all technical aspects of the work but you must be the sort of person who can pick up technical skills quickly. Having said that, the successful applicant will be required to mix and edit 'fast and hard' right from the off!
- If you would like to find out more about Chapel FM, have a good look at our website www.chapelfm.co.uk including the virtual tour and annual report...
- Heads Together is an equal opportunities employer and we encourage applications from all individuals regardless of age, disability, race, gender, caring responsibilities, sexual orientation, religion or belief.
